

Environmental Policy

Ístex relies on Icelandic farmers and their wool harvesting for its functions. Besides, Istex ownership is mainly in the hands of Icelandic farmers.

Ístex produces products that are in harmony with nature and last for generations.

It is a policy of Ístex to minimize the environmental impact of its operations and fully consider environmental issues in the company's decision-making.

Key Focus Areas in Environmental Matters

- Use the best available raw materials and production methods at any given time
- Seek ways to minimize waste, recycle, reuse, and upcycle
- Strive to use as little energy as possible and ensure it is environmentally sourced
- Ensure that transportation is as environmentally friendly as possible
- Support animal welfare, fragile communities, and sustainability projects
- Assist clients in their best practices in environmental matters

Sigurður Sævar Gunnarsson

CEO of Ístex